ALEX POLLACK APPOINTED PRESIDENT OF HONEYWELL INDONESIA

Company to strengthen and expand its presence in one of the high growth regions of the world

Jakarta, Indonesia, December 17 – Honeywell (NYSE: HON) today announced that it has appointed Alex Pollack president of Honeywell Indonesia. In this new role, Pollack will be responsible for advancing Honeywell’s technology leadership and business outcomes with multiple constituencies, including government and public agencies. He will also be responsible for driving growth initiatives across the company, including expanding into new markets and introducing new product offerings.

Pollack will be based in Jakarta and will report directly to Honeywell President for Global High Growth Regions Shane Tedjarati, who said the appointment is “a significant signal of our intention to build Honeywell businesses in Indonesia.”

“I’m very pleased to have Alex come on board as president of Honeywell Indonesia in one of the fastest growing economies in Asia,” Tedjarati said. “Honeywell has been serving clients in Indonesia for more than two decades. We have a solid foundation here and with an in-country president in place, we look forward to continuing to grow our businesses in Indonesia in the future.”

Pollack has extensive experience in strategic business development and management in the power, oil and gas infrastructure, and manufacturing sectors. He earned his master’s degree in management from Florida State University, and he graduated magna cum laude from Le Tourneau University, Texas, with a bachelor’s degree in welding engineering.

“I’m excited about joining Honeywell and having this opportunity to help drive the company’s growth in Indonesia,” Pollack said. “I am confident that by working together, closely with the Indonesian government and our business partners, that Honeywell will continue to contribute to the development of Indonesia and the building of a safer, more secure, energy efficient society for the nation and its people.”

Indonesia is the largest economy in Southeast Asia, as well as one of the leading emerging market economies of the world. Honeywell products and systems have been distributed and installed in Indonesia since 1974. Today, three of Honeywell's businesses, Automation and Control Solutions, Aerospace, and Performance Materials and Technologies, employ over 1,500 employees in cities across the country including Jakarta, Surabaya, Purwakarta, Batam and Bintan.

Globalization is a key part of Honeywell's Growth Initiative. During the next decade, high growth regions are expected to contribute more than 70 percent of the world's growth, and Honeywell is globally positioned to address some of the world's toughest challenges including energy efficiency, clean energy generation, safety and security, and efficient transportation.

Honeywell (www.honeywell.com) is a Fortune 100 diversified technology and manufacturing leader, serving customers worldwide with aerospace products and services; control technologies for buildings, homes, and various industries; automotive products; turbochargers; and specialty materials.
