

ANDREW BLACKE

Product Engineer, Honeywell Aerospace

WHAT WORKED BEST IN YOUR JOB SEARCH? I found my job through Internet job search engines.

WHAT ABOUT CORPORATE AMERICA SURPRISED YOU? How the civilian world allows me roles and responsibilities to take on challenges that are unexpected.

BEST TRANSITION TIPS FOR TRANSITIONING SERVICE MEMBERS? Work on your communication. Many veterans have a robust resume and work experiences, but do not communicate well. Work on organization skills. In the service, many positions have clearly defined roles and expectations. As a civilian, you will likely have to wear many hats. Be able to organize and transition between them. Try to learn how the company operates and how you can utilize your skills to benefit the company.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE MOST ABOUT YOUR JOB? I have more time to spend with my family. I still travel, but it isn't the same kind of travel that it was in the military. ▶

Age: 30

Military Service:

Petty Officer Second Class (E-5),
Navy (2005-2010)

Rating: Aviation Electricians Mate